How your money is managed

This fund invests as a fund of funds world-wide in investment funds offering the best potential returns in line with trends in the financial market. The fund invests up to 60% in equity funds as well as annuity and money market funds. Once a trend reversal has taken hold, the investments are shifted to other funds (possible reduction in the share of equity funds to 0%). This serves to limit losses.

Risks

Trend-following funds are exposed to equity, interest, credit and currency risks. Investing in funds with varying focuses bears the risk that trends of individual investment categories could increase and/or that potential opportunities could cancel one-another out. The underlying investment model may give rise to large short-term price fluctuations.
